

CAPABILITY STATEMENT

Triber is an easy, fast and affordable supplier evaluation & negotiation tool.

Company Overview

Triber enables trusted professional advisors to provide their clients with a simple, low-cost tool to ensure their clients are paying fair market value for the goods and services they purchase from their suppliers (and correct the situation if not).

The added value Triber makes possible, results in better client relationships, increased fees and a clear differentiator in what can be a crowded marketplace.

Small reductions in expenses with preferred trading terms can often be the difference between barely surviving and thriving. A company using Triber's evaluation and negotiation tools could expect savings of at least 5% in their first year from their annual costs. So on a $1M cost base, that would add $50,000 or more straight to their bottom line net profits and provides them the tools to keep costs at fair market value (an excellent ongoing ROI).

Current Supplier Management Solutions vs. Triber's Evaluation & Negotiation Tool

Are your client's suppliers the best available to meet their budget, quality and future needs? To answer these questions, it's smart to periodically test suppliers against the market.

The problem is most organisations negotiate with their suppliers using emails, calls, texts, spreadsheets and share drives. This is time consuming, costly, inefficient, lacks transparency and risks errors, fraud and non-compliance.

Even large companies with ERPs are frequently bypassed because they are inflexible, inaccessible or difficult to use. Triber simplifies supplier management. Triber is low cost, simple to use, fast and provides transparency, accountability and reduced risks.
